It is certified that error appears in the above-identified patent and that said Letters Patent is hereby corrected as shown below:

Claim 1, Column 16, Line 41: "pipelines." should be --pipelines;
wherein said plurality of pipelines is arranged in an array;
wherein said control logic, responsive to detection of a failure in said first pipeline, causes data intended for processing by said first pipeline to be processed by said second pipeline, said second pipeline being physically adjacent said first pipeline in said array; and
wherein said control logic, responsive to detection of a failure in said first pipeline, further causes data intended for processing by said second pipeline to be processed by a third pipeline of said plurality of parallel pipelines, said third pipeline being physically adjacent said second pipeline in said array.--

wherein said plurality of pipelines is arranged in an array;
